		June will be challenging and different for the French circle. We will read contemporary articles from the culture section of Le Monde in French. Do not fear, French journalism is much like Australian newspapers. Language is geared for high school students. However, for those of us who find the French language is a work in progress, mobiles and/or dictionaries are permitted for translation. However, a collaborative effort is assured and will provide much fun as we explore what the French media is writing about today.		Myths and Legends in the historical European collection Melrose wing
